

1870, ch. 256.

486. The said inspector of hay and straw shall execute a bond to the State in addition to the bond now provided by law to be given by said inspector, to be approved by the comptroller, in the penal sum of one thousand dollars, conditioned for the full performance of all acts and things required by him as weigher of live stock at said scales, and to pay all damages that may be sustained by reason of wilful omission, refusal or neglect to discharge said duties; which bond shall be filed with the comptroller of the treasury; but said inspector or weigher of hay and straw shall be chargeable with the payment of a tax of ten dollars, and no more, for his commission.

P. L. L., (1860,) art. 4, sec. 423.

487. All fines and forfeitures imposed under sections 474-476 may be recovered with costs in the name of the State, before a justice of the peace in the manner that small debts are recovered; one-half to the informer and the other half to the use of the State.

LIVE STOCK.

P. L. L., (1860,) art. 4, sec. 458.

488. The governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, shall biennially appoint a suitable and proper person to be weighmaster of live stock in the city of Baltimore.

Ibid. sec. 459.

489. The person so appointed shall execute a bond to the State of Maryland, with two securities, to be approved by the mayor or city council of Baltimore, in the penal sum of five thousand dollars, conditioned for the full performance of all acts and things required of him as weighmaster, and to pay all damages that may be sustained by reason of wilful omission, refusal or neglect to discharge the said duties; which bond shall be filed among the records of the superior court of Baltimore city, and may be sued by any person injured or damaged by such wilful omission, neglect or refusal.
